I think that you should either accept the agreement by microsoft and the states or drop all charges. If you try to screw Microsoft they will screw you out of millions of tax dollars by taking the offer made to them by British Columbia. Microsoft was just as big as a monopoly as Walmart but no one ever brought charges against them even though charges should be brought against them because they squash their competitors especially in small cities like I live in. That is why I buy everything on the net because I will not support Walmart but I will support Microsoft because they care about their consumers and try to be the best while offering great products. DO NOT stop this by limiting their innovation. If you want to screw someone scew Walmart.
